Deputy PM and health minister provide update on coronavirus and new cabinet committee

Deputy Prime Minister Chrystia Freeland and Health Minister Patty Hajdu update reporters on the federal response to coronavirus (COVID-19). They are joined by Canada's chief public health officer and deputy, Dr. Theresa Tam and Dr. Howard Njoo. Freeland chairs the newly-created cabinet committee on Canada's coronavirus response. The committee held its first meeting prior to the news conference and it is meant to complement the work done by the government's Incident Response Group. The eight members of the committee will meet regularly to monitor the health and economic impacts of the virus. As of March 3, there are 33 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in Canada.

Race, Refugees and Europe: A look back at the last decade

Part of the Myron Weiner Seminar Series on International Migration with guest speaker Eddie Bruce-Jones, Deputy Dean, School of Law, Head of Department & Reader in Law & Anthropology, Department of Law, Birkbeck University of London. Abstract: This talk examines some of the features of the last decade in Europe, which has been marked by political shifts to the far right, a magnified profile of refugee migration into and within Europe, and an increased articulation of the links between race, real and imagined borders, and the treatment of refugees. The talk examines laws, policies and public discourse from several European countries and from European regional institutions. About the speaker: Dr Eddie Bruce-Jones joined the faculty at Birkbeck in September 2010. He has served as Deputy Dean of the School of Law since 2018 and Head of the Department of Law since 2020. During his time at Birkbeck, he has served as the school's Acting Dean (Autumn 2018), Assistant Dean for Recruitment and Internationalisation (2015–2018), Programme Director for the LLM Qualifying Law Degree (2013–2018) and as a member of the college Board of Governors (2015–2018). Prior to joining Birkbeck, Dr Bruce-Jones was Visiting Lecturer in Public International Law at King's College London School of Law and an associate at the city law firm Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton, LLP in London, where in addition to corporate practice, he handled several asylum and public international law pro bono matters. In 2020, Dr Bruce-Jones was the William and Patricia Kleh Visiting Professor at Boston University School of Law. He is the recipient of a 2018 Wellcome Trust ISSF grant to support a symposium in the area of the medical humanities, on race, mental health and state violence. In 2017 and 2018, he was a short-stay visiting fellow at the Max Planck Institute for European Legal History in Frankfurt, Germany. He is a member of the editorial board of the Journal of Immigration, Asylum and Nationality Law (Bloomsbury) and an advisory board member of the London Journal of Critical Thought, the International Academic Forum and the Centre for Intersectional Justice. Dr Bruce-Jones serves on the Boards of Directors of the Institute for Race Relations and the UK Lesbian and Gay Immigration Group, and the Advisory Board of the Centre for Intersectional Justice (Berlin). He is a comparative law specialist for the Independent Commission on the Death of Oury Jalloh (on police brutality and due process) in Germany as well as Sexuality and Gender Identity Resource Co-ordinator for the Refugees in Exile Programme of the International Refugee Rights Initiative. He has taught general education and writing courses in prisons in Boston and New York and has worked on prison reform issues in various capacities. Dr Bruce-Jones is Associate Academic Fellow of the Honourable Society of the Inner Temple and Member of the New York State Bar. Om #metoo och konstinstitutionernas ansvar | Panelsamtal

13 december 2017 hölls detta panelsamtal om #metoo och konstinstitutionernas ansvar. Plats: Moderna Museet i Stockholm. Programbeskrivning: Vad innebär #metoo-rörelsen i form av nödvändiga förändringar inom konstområdet? Som konstinstitutioner och -lärosäten har vi tillsammans ett ansvar att vara med och förbättra. Därför bjuder vi – Kungl. Konsthögskolan, Konstfack, Konstakademien och Moderna Museet – in till en öppen paneldiskussion om ansvar, åtgärder och möjligheter att bryta kränkande maktstrukturer.
